In recent months, due to the global coronavirus pandemic, online learning has become increasingly popular. Most of our partners offer options for various courses and educational programs that give students an excellent opportunity not only to spend time in self-isolation in an interesting and useful way, but also to try their hand at studying subjects in a foreign language.

Today we will analyze a few examples of such online courses:

Academic Summer is one of the UK's leading educational providers offering online lessons for students in Mathematics, Essay Writing and Presentation & Interview Skills. Seminars are conducted by school teachers who are native speakers. Academic Summer gives you 30-minute trial lessons for free. This is a unique opportunity to find the most interesting course for yourself in order to continue full-fledged paid education, and get to know the teachers of the school.

CATS UK - the famous British international college - is launching a unique online training program for potential students. College teachers will conduct remote seminars on topics that are very important and interesting for modern young people: What is memory? How to remember things better, what is happening economically? How to understand the Economics of CV19, What is the Oxbridge Brain? How to develop yours for Oxbridge success? and many others. CATS UK give this unique opportunity completely free of charge, and we, for our part, will be happy to help you in choosing a study program for the academic year.

CERAN - a Belgian language school - offers adult students aged 18 to 25 low-cost online lessons in Chinese, English, German, Portuguese, Arabic, French and many other languages, and younger children (ages 7 to 17) together with school teachers, they can effectively work on oral speech and engage in active practice and study of German, English, Spanish, Danish and French.
